Debt market

- Government bonds rose for a second session, on receding fears of a rate hike after retail inflation growth in April at 2.99% was at least at a fiveyear low
- The benchmark 6.97% 2026 bond yield declined to 6.81% from 6.91% in the previous session due to increased hopes of rate cut
- Yield on the US 10-year rose to 2.34% from 2.33% in the previous session

Forex (US$/INR)

- The rupee rose to a more-than-21-month high against the US$, as weaker-than-expected US economic data and strong domestic equities increased hopes of foreign fund inflows
- US$ declined against major currencies due to weak US CPI data. However, it continued to gain over Japanese Yen due to easing risk aversion. We expect the euro to gain against US$ as well as British pound due to positive pro-Euro political development

Equity

- Equity benchmarks snapped a four day winning streak and settled lower on Friday amid profit booking in recently run-up heavyweights
- The Sensex eased 62 points or 0.21% to 30188 while the Nifty shed 21 points or 0.23% to settle at 9400
- The broader markets witnessed steeper profit booking round as the BSE midcap and small cap indices fell 0.69% and 0.80%, respectively. As a result, the overall market breadth was negative with an A/D ratio of 1:1.78 on the BSE

Commodities Market

- Crude oil rose posting decent gains of close to 2% on news of Russia and Saudi Arabia contemplating supply curbs till Q1 2018. News of other Opec members joing would be positive for oil prices as it would help contain the global supply glut
- Gold rose in yesterday's trade as the US$ remained weak post US core CPI data. Also, news of the US President sharing classified information with a Russian minister raised geo-political risks supporting safe haven buying in gold

US$/INR derivatives strategy

- In the currency futures market, the most traded dollar-rupee May contract on the NSE ended at 64.18. The May contract open interest rose 1.29% from the previous day
- June contract open interest rose 19.18% in the last session
- We expect the US$ to meet resistance at higher levels. Utilise upsides in the pair to go short on the US$INR pair
