Market Review 3.10.17

Nifty (9789) we said, technically now the Nifty can climb up to around 9816-9946 zones but if it breaches 9687 ether in the next trading session or after few days then the next level down would be 9596' the Nifty unfolded strong as expected and climbed up in our trading zone, it was the profit booking in the later part of the trading session ahead of the long weekend that saw a mild positive close....technically the analysis remains the same and I expect a gap opening for the next trading session....

The crucial support for the Nifty is at 9596 and the resistance is at 9816-9946
