Nifty Spot Chart

Technical Outlook

The opening session of week started with flat opening and we witnessed the impact of bearish Belt-Hold candle during the first half. Subsequently, index traded sideways to eventually end the session with a loss of 0.36%. During the day, Nifty entered inside the gap area formed on last Thursday. After sharp rally in past few weeks entering fresh long in index at this level doesn't fetch good reward to risk hence we advised traders to concentrate on stock specific trades with a positive bias. For the day, 9080 will act as an immediate support below which Nifty likely to correct till 9000. Higher side, 9175 / 9218 will act as an immediate resistance.

Bank Nifty Spot Chart

Technical Outlook

Yesterday, Nifty Bank index too witnessed some bit of profit booking during the initial hour of trade. Subsequently, it traded sideways to eventually end with a nominal loss of 0.31%. During the day, the impact of bearish divergence was seen however we still advised traders to refrain any short. Now, 21060 which coincide with the last week doji candle will act as an immediate support below which strong support placed near 20875. Higher side, 21206 / 21336 are resistance for the day.
