Technical Outlook

Day that was...

Indian equity benchmarks started the week on a positive note driven by firm global cues, strengthening of Rupee vs Dollar and Reliance Industries better than expected results and positive FII's flows. Nifty settled the day at 24,328, up by 1.20%. Broader market relatively outperformed as Midcap gained 1.62%. Sectorally, barring IT all the sectors closed in green, where Oil & Gas, PSU Bank and Healthcare were outperformers.

Technical Outlook:

- The Nifty opened the week with a gap-up (24039-24070) and maintained the northward journey throughout the day, as a result it recovered Friday's losses. Consequently, the daily price action formed sizeable green candle, indicating robust price structure. Key point to highlight is that Nifty, after two sessions of breather, resumed its upward journey led by buying in index heavyweights Reliance Industries and financials, where the contribution from the top five stocks was ~180 points and nine consecutive days of strong positive FII's flows turned the month's net figure from negative to positive, resulting in a total net buy of Rs. 298.84 crores for April month..
- Going ahead, in the truncated week, we expect volatility to remain elevated, tracking geopolitical worries wherein Nifty is likely to consolidate in the broader range of 24500-23300 zone. We believe, over past two months index has formed a durable bottom. Hence, ongoing breather would help index to form higher base by cooling off the overbought condition after 12% rally seen over past three weeks and make market healthy.
- Over past three decades there have been three major instances of escalations due to armed conflicts in India (i.e., Kargil War, 26/11, Pulwama attack). On each occasion it formed major bottom, once anxiety around the event settled down and garner decent return in subsequent three months. Even in current scenario, possibility of knee-jerk reaction on escalation of geopolitical worries cannot be ruled out. However, historical evidences suggest that market will eventually stabilise. Hence, we advise not to panic but rather capitalize it to accumulate stocks and build quality portfolios from medium to long term perspective amid ongoing earning season.
- The blend of following parameters makes us believe that the index has formed a durable bottom. Tracking the historical data, benchmark index has staged a strong rebound after approaching the price and time wise correction. Key point to highlight is that the current up move is backed by the faster pace of retracement, indicating structural turnaround that has been further validated by significant improvement in momentum, breadth as well as sentiment indicators. Key monitorable which would act as tailwind:
 - a) Bilateral Trade Agreement between India and US
 - b) Continuation of FII's inflow
 - c) Further weakness in US Dollar index post breakdown from two years consolidation
 - d) Decline in Brent crude oil prices
- On the broader market front, we witnessed a breather in the Nifty Midcap and Small Cap indices, post the strong pullback of 18% and 21%. Notably, the mid cap index after retesting its 200-day EMA on Friday staged a strong recovery in today's session, regaining upward momentum.
- We expect volatility to prevail amid ongoing global and domestic uncertainty, However, after today's strong price action, we retain our support at 23300 which is 50% retracement of the move from (21743-24365) and 50-day EMA.

Technical Outlook

Day that was:

The Bank Nifty continued the buying demand from the previous week where it settled the Monday's trading session on a positive note at 55433, up by 1.41%. Meanwhile, the Nifty PSU Bank index outperformed the benchmark where it settled at 6695, up by 2.44%

Technical Outlook:

- The Bank Nifty opened the week on a flat note, however it soon witnessed buying demand from lower levels and traded with a bullish bias throughout the day, indicating supportive efforts at lower level. The price action resulted in a sizeable bull candle, indicating structural strength.
- Key point to highlight is that, the Bank Nifty witnessed buying demand from lower level after 3 days of breather, indicating that the broader structure is intact. However, it needs to close above the psychological mark of 56000 to resume its upward momentum, failure to do so will result in prolongation of consolidation in a broader range of 56000-54300 where the mark of 54300 will act as an immediate support, being 61.8% retracement of recent up-move (53085-56098). In the ongoing truncated week, we expect volatility to remain elevated tracking geopolitical worries. Meanwhile, stock specific action is likely to continue on the basis of ongoing result season. The traders are advised to accumulate quality stocks in staggered manner from a medium-term perspective.
- Structurally, the Bank Nifty is showing resilience as compared to the benchmark as it witnessed faster pace of retracement where it regained previous 6 months of decline in less than 2 months, indicating structural turnaround. Additionally, the index broke out of an eight-month falling trendline and surpassed its lifetime high, indicating robust structure.
- In tandem with the benchmark index, the Nifty PSU Bank index witnessed supportive efforts after retesting the previous breakout mark of 6500 and resumed its upward momentum, where the price action resulted in a sizeable bull candle, indicating structural strength. Going ahead, we expect the index to form higher base and gradually head towards the mark of 7200 being the Dec-24 swing high. Meanwhile, the immediate support on the downside is placed at 6350 mark, being 61.8% retracement mark of the recent up-move (5904-6838).

- In case of intraday stock recommendations, execute the trade within +/- 0.25% of the recommended range provided in the report. The stock recommendation has to be executed after the first 5 minutes of trade and only up to 11:00 am. In case of Nifty future execute after the first 5 minutes of trade and up to 03:00 pm
- In case of positional recommendations, execute the recommendations in the range provided in the report
- Once the recommendation is executed, it is advisable to maintain strict stop loss as provided in the report. For positional recommendation maintain stop loss on daily closing basis
- We adapt a trading strategy of booking 50% profit when the position is in profit by 4-5% and trail stop loss on remaining position to the entry point (In case of positional stock recommendations)
- In case of intra day Nifty futures recommendation, once recommendation is activated, consider booking 50% profit near 1st Target (tolerance of 3 points) and trail stop loss to cost for remaining positions
- If the recommended intra day stock hits the target price before getting activated, then it is considered not initiated
- The Intra day recommendations are valid only for the day and should be squared off by 15:10 hrs. The positional recommendations are valid only for the prescribed period and are to be squared off at the end of mentioned period unless communicated otherwise through separate mail or on i-click to gain page
- Only stocks in derivatives segment have been considered for intra day recommendations
- Medium to long-term prospects of a stock does not have any bearing on the intra day view

Trading portfolio allocation

- It is recommended to spread out the trading corpus in a proportionate manner between the various technical research products
- Please avoid allocating the entire trading corpus to a single stock or a single product segment
- Within each product segment it is advisable to allocate equal amount to each recommendation
- For example: The 'Momentum Pick' product carries 2 to 4 intraday recommendations. It is advisable to allocate equal amount to each recommendation

Recommended product wise portfolio allocation

Candlestick patterns describe the market sentiment for the specified period. Some of the formations suggest reversal of sentiment (trend) and, therefore, are important for a chart reader. By themselves, the patterns do not carry any price target but only an indication of change in market behaviour. More importance needs to be given to the placement of the pattern within larger trend

Morning Star: Potential bottom reversal pattern made of three candle lines. The first sizeable black candle reflects a market in which the bears are in complete charge. The next candle line--the small real body--shows a slight diminution of the bearish force. The white candle that makes up the last part of the morning star visually displays the bulls are gaining the upper hand. Lowest low amongst three candles becomes technical support

Bullish Engulfing Line: A potential bottom reversal pattern. This pattern typically appears at the culmination of a decline or downtrend. The market falls, and a black candle forms (ideally a small black candle). Next, a white real body wraps around the prior session's black body. Low of the pattern becomes short term support for prices

Piercing Line: Potential bottom reversal pattern. A black body forms in the downtrend. The market continues moving south on the next session's open but that session culminates in a white real body that closes (e.g. pierces) than half way or more into the prior black body. Lowest low between two candles is referred to as technical support for prices

Hammer: A candlestick line which, during a downtrend, has a very long lower shadow and small real body (black or white) at the top end of the session's range. There should be no, or a very small, upper shadow. Pattern suggests buying support during declines and needs confirmation in terms of sustainability of prices above head of the Hammer in following session

Evening Star: Potential Top reversal pattern made of three candle lines. Comparable with a traffic signal. First white candle reflects a market in bullish trend. The next candle line--the small real body--warns waning momentum. The black candle that completes the evening star visually exhibits that prior up trend has stopped or reversed

Bearish Engulfing Line: Potential top reversal signal. This two-candlestick pattern emerges during a rally. A black candle real body wraps around a white real body (classically a small white candle) Highest high between two candles becomes resistance level for prices for future reference

Dark Cloud cover: A dark cloud cover forms a top reversal pattern. The first session should be a strong, white real body. The second session's price opens over the prior session's high (or above the prior session's close). By the end of the second session, it closes near the low of the session and should fall well into the prior session's white body. Pattern suggests that market has a poor chance of rising immediately

Shooting Star: A single candlestick line during a rally in which there is a small real body (white or black) at the bottom end of the session's range and a very long upper shadow. The candle line should also have little or no lower shadow. Pattern suggest the trouble for prices overhead

Continuation Patterns: Other than widely known Candlestick reversal patterns discussed above, there are numerous patterns mentioned in literature on Candlestick which describe the continuation of existing sentiments i.e. bullish or bearish. We have refrained from mentioning names of these patterns to avoid confusion. However, the remark Continuation Pattern refers to bullish or bearish candlestick patterns which suggest continuation of existing trend
