MARKET PREVIEW

US: U.S. equities were higher at the close on Wednesday, as gains in the Healthcare, Financials and Basic Materials sectors propelled shares higher. At the close in NYSE, the Dow Jones Industrial Average added 1.40% to hit a new 1-month high, while the S&P 500 index added 1.11%, and the NASDAQ Composite index added 1.11%.

Asia: Asian shares rebounded on Thursday and the dollar firmed in a remarkable snapback from the shock of Republican Donald Trump's presidential victory, though the speed of the reversal left some market watchers scratching their heads.

India: Markets went off the rails as Sensex crashed 1,689 points and Nifty over 541 points in early session after a surprise Donald Trump win and the govt's move to withdraw high value notes.. However, value-buying in key bluechips helped the index recover before closing the session 338.61 points, or 1.23% down. Nifty, which dipped below the 8,100-mark, settled 111.55 points, or 1.31%, down at 8,432. Market is expected to open on positive note and likely to witness range bound session.

Economy: China is disappointed that the EU hasn't completely recognized its market economy status, commerce ministry said. The EU and many of China's other trading partners have been debating whether to grant China "market economy status" from mid-December, which Beijing says is its right 15 years after it joined the World Trade Organization. The United States has said China has not done enough to qualify.

Hedge fund closures globally are likely to outpace launches this year for the first time in more than 16 years' of data.

U.S. crude oil inventories rose more-than-expected last month to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.432M, from 14.420M in the preceding month.

Commodities: Oil prices dipped early on Thursday pulled down by rising U.S. crude inventories and as markets tried to interpret U.S. President-elect Donald Trump's surprise victory. Gold held steady early on Thursday after briefly surging to a six-week high in the previous session, as global markets and the U.S. dollar showed surprise gains in the wake of Republican Donald Trump's presidential victory.

Currency: The dollar extended gains in Asian trading on Thursday, rebounding on a rise in U.S. Treasury yields on higher inflation expectations following Republican candidate Donald Trump's victory in the presidential election.
