Petronet LNG: Back-to-back contracts – Back bone of the company

- ❖ We look back at the performance of PLNG's Dahej terminal in light of various expansions since the commissioning of the terminal in 2004.
- ❖ PLNG has been able to quickly ramp-up utilization rates post every expansion owing to these long-term commitments by promoters. These transactions have been in place since the commissioning of the Dahej terminal and are conducted at arm's length.
- ❖ Dahej is further expanding to 19.5mmtpa (over next 2-3 years) from 17.5mmtpa at present. We believe the company would be able to achieve optimal utilization rates even at higher capacity owing to its location and infrastructural leverage, along with downstream contracts/marketing abilities of its promoters.
- ❖ As guided by one of its promoters – GAIL, commissioning of three fertilizer plants along the Jagdishpur-Haldia-Bokaro-Dhamra pipeline (JHBDPL) and connectivity to refiners on Urja-Ganga pipeline would aid GAIL in de-risking US HH contracts by bringing ~10mmscmd of volumes currently sold abroad to India. We reiterate a Buy.

Stock Performance (1-year)

Back-to-back contracts – Back bone of the company

- In this report, we look back at the performance of PLNG's Dahej terminal in light of various expansions since the commissioning of the terminal in 2004.
- PLNG is a JV of four PSU companies (GAIL, BPCL, IOCL, ONGC) constituting 50% of the total equity shareholding, with the remaining stake held by the public.
- These promoters are also its downstream marketers, with over 90% of gas offtake through them.
- PLNG has two trading take or pay contracts – 7.5mmt of RasGas (till 2028) and 1.44mmt of Gorgon (till 2035), with 8.25mmt of tolling use or pay contract (on which the company only earns regasification margins).
- PLNG has been able to quickly ramp-up utilization rates post every expansion (as highlighted in Exhibit 1) owing to these long-term commitments by promoters (refer Exhibit 2). These transactions have been in place since the commissioning of the Dahej terminal and are conducted at arm's length.
- Dahej is further expanding to 19.5mmtpa (over next 2-3 years) from 17.5mmtpa at present. We believe the company would be able to achieve optimal utilization rates even at higher capacity owing to its location and infrastructural leverage, along with downstream contracts/marketing abilities of its promoters.
- As guided by one of its promoters – GAIL, commissioning of three fertilizer plants along the Jagdishpur-Haldia-Bokaro-Dhamra pipeline (JHBDPL) and connectivity to refiners on Urja-Ganga pipeline would aid GAIL in de-risking US HH contracts by bringing ~10mmscmd of volumes currently sold abroad to India.
- Being of the opinion that promoter-led offtake would continue to aid strong utilization rates at Dahej, we reiterate a Buy.

Dahej terminal – Hercules lifting the company (click here for report)

- As highlighted in our recent report (link above), Dahej terminal is likely to emerge as the key beneficiary of increasing LNG imports in lieu of poor domestic gas production.
- The company is setting up two additional tanks and a jetty at Dahej (in addition to the existing six tanks and two jetties). The tanks are in the tendering phase, whereas land study for a jetty are going on.
- The seventh tank would fuel expansion by 2mmtpa; while another tank and third jetty would serve as a full-fledged LNG hub on the West coast.
- The Kochi-Mangalore pipeline is complete and commissioning of the same is expected by end of Nov'20 or early Dec'20.
- Kochi terminal is currently operating ~17% (i.e. 0.85mmtpa) utilization rate. Mangalore has a volume potential of ~1.2mmtpa as there are 7-8 CGD GAs on this pipeline along with industrial clusters.
- Thus, the volumes at Kochi terminal should reach ~2mmtpa (i.e. ~40% utilization rate) over the next 5-6 months.
- Currently, ~0.85mmt of Gorgon's LT volumes comes to the Dahej terminal. As Kochi ramp-ups, the idea could be to explore cheaper spot gas first. Thus, current Gorgon volumes at Dahej may not go to Kochi immediately.

- Moreover, the company believes that utilization levels at Dahej terminal could be at current levels even 4-5 years down the line because of back-to-back tie-ups despite competition coming in. Threat to the Dahej terminal is the least as it is connected by four pipelines and offers competitive tariffs.

Valuation and recommendation

- The board has declared a special interim dividend of INR8/share (v/s INR12.5/share in FY20) and the management suggests it would maintain a dividend payout of over 70% until there is further clarity/affirmation on its capex plans.
  - Assuming a development phase for the next 2-3 years for existing or new capex to be announced, current EBIDTA/PAT is likely to clock 11%/8% CAGR to INR55-35b. Assuming ~70% payout (v/s 74% in FY20), the dividend should be ~INR11-14/share, resulting in 5-6% return to shareholders (refer exhibit 7).
  - On the conservative side, we have not factored in 5% tariff escalation at Dahej and Kochi for FY22-23E (refer exhibit 8). If we inculcate the same, FY22E/FY23E EPS climbs by 6%/12%, leading to an upward revision in our TP to INR335.
- In a recent media interview, Tellurian's Chairman Charif Souki said, "We view a MoU as a moral commitment, but we're no longer looking for moral commitments. We are looking for real commitments, so we will no longer agree to do MoUs."
  - PLNG continues to reiterate that the MoU with Tellurian (final decision expected in FY21) is non-binding in nature and the IRR benchmark for the company stands at 16%. However, the bigger question is whether the investment is required at all. The market has changed considerably now and people are not keen on investments in such projects because there is no dearth of gas right now.
- PLNG expects overall demand from the CGD sector in the country to double after the gestation period of the 9-10th CGD round is over (in next 5-6 years). Also, NGT's actions against severely/critically polluted industrial clusters would lead to higher adoption of gas from industries.
- The company has entered into a MoU with GUJGA to set up five stations on the Delhi–Mumbai highway. IGL would also set up three stations on the highway, taking the total count to eight. Another MoU has been signed with IOC for setting up five LNG stations in South India. ssLNG has potential of 8-10mtpa over the next 8-10 years. However, the key to this segment is the initial development of infrastructure to aid larger adoption in vehicles.
- Return profile for the company remains strong with a RoE/RoCE at 24-27%/21-25% for FY21-23E. The stock trades at 12.1x FY22E EPS of INR21.3 and 6.9x FY22E EV/EBITDA. We value PLNG on a DCF basis to arrive at a fair value of INR335. Reiterate Buy.

Stock Performance (1-year)

Steady and strong operating performance to continue

We attended the annual analyst meeting organized by Bharat Electronics (BHE).

We are impressed with the management's strategic vision as well as commentary on opportunities and margins, leading us to increase our EPS estimates by 3-6% over FY21-23E and TP to INR130/share. Below are our key takeaways:

- Management confident of double-digit growth over the next decade: BHE is confident of clocking double-digit topline growth over the next decade on the back of huge opportunities in the defense as well as non-defense segments. We are pleasantly surprised by such a strong guidance. The management also shared broad opportunities that it is targeting. A record high order book would also provide strong support towards such an attainment.
- Opportunities galore; BHE in a sweet spot: Over the next few years, there are multiple opportunities available including: a) QRSAM opportunity of INR300b over the next decade, b) LRSAM order pipeline of INR150b over the next three years, c) Repeat orders for Akash missiles in the next one year and then repeat order after every two years, d) Huge requirement of weapons and sensors across India's borders owing to rising tensions, e) Drone opportunities, f) radars, and g) electro-optics. In the non-defense segment, opportunities include: h) Smart City and homeland security orders, i) railway signaling and automated gates for metro projects, and j) medical equipment (BHE provided 30k ventilators in record time towards the COVID crisis). There are opportunities in the services business, including annual maintenance contracts (AMC), as well as defense software.
- Sees further inquiries for ventilators: BHE received inquiries for its ventilators from the US market. Since it did not own the design, its supplies were limited at 30,000 ventilators. The management is in talks with the licensor for extension of the license. Private players (like hospital chains) have envisaged interest for further orders. The company plans to invest more towards manufacturing its own models.
- On strong footing for 'Make in India': With its existing vast base of in-house manufacturing, BHE is on a strong footing to capitalize on the Atma Bharat initiative in the defense sector. From the recent 101 items banned by the Ministry of Defense (MoD) for imports, BHE is capable of catering ~55 of those items. It has submitted an expression of interest (EoI) and 23 items are already under advanced stages of indigenization. In its ongoing first batch of LRSAM supplies, ~35% of the content is indigenous. The same is expected to rise to 55% by the 11th batch. The first radar for the Rafale aircraft, which was integrated in France, was supplied by BHE as an offset partner.
- Diversification strategy to aid growth: Businesses like Smart City and homeland security already constitute 10% of its order book, with revenue share expected to increase to 15% over the next 2-3 years from 7% now. The management will strategically invest in diversified segments, even if it's at a lower margin, as gradual scale up will lead to absorption of costs. While competition in the civil business is higher as compared to defense, BHE is trying to leverage its technological advantage while bidding. Management expects revenue from services and AMC to be 10% of total revenue in the near future.

- Current order book strong, expects order inflows of INR150b in FY21: BHE had a robust order backlog of INR520b as of 1HFY21, translating to an OB/rev ratio of 4x. Order inflows have been steady and stood at INR49.8b in 1HFY21. Even though orders for ventilators have been exhausted, the company expects strong orders like Akash Missile System for the third and fourth regiment of the Indian Army (in partnership with Bharat Dynamics), electronic warfare systems, Smart City business, avionics package for the light combat aircraft (LCA), and sonar systems. With a strong order pipeline, the management expects order inflows in excess of INR150b in FY21E (higher than INR132b in FY20).
- Confident of clocking 20% (+/-1%) margin v/s earlier guidance of ~18%: The management feels EBITDA margin in excess of 20% are easily achievable with strong topline growth (double-digit). On the recent news of an upward revision in the net margin of nominated projects, it said the same is under consideration by the MoD and that margins may see an upward revision to 8% currently (though not confirmed yet) from 7.5%, which will be a key positive. Margins have also moderated with the deliveries of LRSAM from last year. However, the management is confident that this impact can be negated with strong double-digit revenue growth.
- Valuation and view: On the back of strong performance in 1HFY21, we increase our FY21E/FY22E/FY23E EPS by 5%/3%/6%. We forecast revenue/EBITDA/PAT CAGR of 11%/7%/8% over FY20-23E. At the CMP, the stock trades at FY22E/ FY 23E P/E of just 12x/11x despite having a RoE/RoCE of ~17%/18%, dividend yield of ~3.5% and FCF yield of 5-7%. We maintain our Buy rating, but raise the TP to INR130/share from INR116/share earlier, based on 15x Mar'22E EPS v/s one-year forward long-term average multiple of 15.8x. Key risk to our rating includes working capital deterioration.

Festive season brings back cheer

We conducted a post-festive season channel checks to gauge the demand environment in Central and Western India. Although the sample size is too small to make generalizations, the broad inference is that festive demand has been good in several categories and there has been a sequential improvement in demand in recent months. Key takeaways:

- Jewelry demand during the festive season was very strong for Tanishq. This was in line with what the management indicated in a media interview that Jewelry sales were up 15% YoY during the festive period.
- While festive salience for QSRs is lower than that for Jewelry, they too witnessed a strong demand. Demand recovery continues to be led by delivery channel as Dine-in is affected by social distancing restrictions imposed by authorities.
- Demand at Jockey's exclusive brand outlets (EBOs) is still down on a YoY basis, but is seeing a sequential improvement. Athleisure demand is strong, but its sustainability is unclear.

Titan

- Our channel checks in Central and Western India indicated healthy festive season demand.
- In a media interview on 19 Nov'20, the management indicated that Jewelry segment has grown 15% YoY during the festive period.
- Footfalls are also back to normal levels.
- Festive season demand was boosted by reduction in making charges on gold jewelry and discounts on diamond jewelry.
- Premium location stores are 1.5-2x of last year's sales on high demand for studded jewelry.
- Wedding demand has begun and is expected to pick-up from next week onwards.
- Demand for gold coins has increased sharply. There was a stock out in some stores for gold coins on Diwali day.

QSRs

- The festive season is not as important for QSRs as for Apparel or Jewelry.
- Average ticket size has increased for most QSR outlets as consumers order for the entire family during Delivery.
- The gradual recovery of footfalls in malls augurs well for Dine-in.
- Dine-in demand is closer to normal in non-metros than in metros. The latter continues to lag due to social distancing restrictions imposed by authorities.
- Domino's:
  - Festive season demand was good, but was still flat YoY.
  - It is seeing higher ticket sizes as customers place orders for the entire family.
  - The outlook is getting better with a sequential improvement being witnessed in Dine-in.
  - Delivery sales were boosted by no minimum order size (removed in 2QFY21) and additional promotional offers.
- McDonald's:
  - Sales are down 20-30% YoY, but performance is improving sequentially.
  - Sales contribution by Dine-in and Delivery are now equal.
  - Sequential improvements are being witnessed in Dine-in sales.
  - Premium products are doing very well.

Jockey

- Festive season sales at EBOs witnessed strong demand. Though the demand is down YoY, it is improving QoQ.
- Decline in some EBO stores is as much as 50% of pre-COVID levels and on average are down ~20%.
- Sales of Jockey Junior seem to be largely weaker-than-expected.
- It witnessed strong Mask sales. Despite premium pricing, sales are strong due to better quality product.
- Athleisure demand is strong, but its sustainability is unclear
- There are no signs of downtrading.

Nestle: On track to deliver 11th straight quarter of double-digit growth in Q3; Suresh Narayanan, CMD

- We have had a good quarter at 10.2% growth. Thus, this will be the 11th straight quarter of double-digit growth
- Manufacturing levels improving. Capacity utilizations over 90%
- Total Distribution infrastructure has opened & continues to be a positive feature
- Tier 2, 3 & 4 towns and rural market are doing extremely well
- Urban India faced operating issues but is growing gradually. It grew by 0.7% in Q2 & Rural grew by 1.7%, in Q3 Urban grew by 6% & Rural by 12%
- Out-of-home consumption is gradually opening up and therefore, foresee some balancing in in-home & out-of-home consumption
- Will be the first to go in if PLI helps achieve our objectives
- Certain semblance of normalcy settling in

Titan: Saw 15% growth in the festive season YoY; S. Subramaniam, CFO

- Will grow YoY in Jewellery in Q3. Gold coin sales returning to normalcy. Studded jewellery has picked up. Were at 90% plus in Q2 in this segment
- Watches & eyewear still not at growth level, it were at 60% levels in Q2, but are catching up
- Saw an uptick in demand from Tier I&II cities during festive season. Tier III&IV has done well for us
- Happy to see normalcy return before expected
- Expect to open 30-35 stores in FY21

M&M: Despite running at 90-95% utilizations, unable to meet demand; Anish Shah, Deputy MD & CFO

- This year Margin of 26% are at record high, but will keep improving
- Have cut down costs significantly in many areas. Some of that is sustainable
- Tractor industry has been in great shape since May. See this picking up even further
- We have been at full capacity for the last three months or so, 90-95% capacity. Despite that it has been difficult to meet the demand
- Very strong comeback in rural areas which is sustainable at least for the next few months going into the next year
- In process of cutting down loss making subsidiaries. Discussions are ongoing for SsangYong
- This year market share has been impacted to a larger extent by supply chain issues

RBI DOES WELL TO MERGE LAKSHMI VILAS BANK WITH DBS

- If the central bank-owned Deposit and Insurance Credit Guarantee Corporation (DICGC) that insures Rs 37 lakh crore of bank deposits in the country has seen its premiums—for the deposit insurance—shoot up 60% in FY15-20 and surpluses rise 2.2 times over this period to over Rs 98,000 crore, it is because RBI rarely allows banks to fail. The latest example of RBI arranging a merger for an about-to-fail bank is that of the beleaguered Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB) and the India subsidiary of Singapore's DBS Bank. While LVB's depositors are now allowed to withdraw just Rs 25,000 each for another month, the plan is that the merger will provide enough assurance to its panicking clients to ensure there is no run on it. Since DBS has a strong enough balance sheet—it had NPAs of 2.7% as on June 30 and a 16% capital adequacy (against a requirement of 9%)—this will ensure the merged bank also has capital adequacy of 12.5% versus LVB's 0.2%; and the Rs 2,500 crore of additional capital that DBS will bring will help sustain credit growth of the merged entity—to quote the RBI draft scheme of amalgamation—and will come in handy in case a section of depositors want out in the short-run. Over even the medium term, given how strong DBS's balance sheet is, assuming it can amalgamate LVB into its operations seamlessly, the latter's depositors should have little to fear; for DBS, the addition of 563 branches and 974 ATMs will help expand its India operations. Indeed, while some are concerned that RBI should not have chosen to allow a foreign bank to take over an Indian entity, the central bank probably wanted to close the deal at the earliest; the fact that a state-owned bank was not asked to step in is good news. In any case, given several other banks also have weak financials, there will be several other merger alternatives; if the acquiring bank is strong, it is likely to get central bank approval.
- If there is a quibble, it is that RBI may have waited too long before taking strong action. LVB has been in trouble for several years now. It was more than a year ago that the central bank placed it under the Prompt and Corrective Action (PCA) framework that put several restrictions on its lending as it had a negative return on assets for two consecutive years and didn't have sufficient capital to manage its risks. All of this made LVB a good candidate for a merger with a healthy bank, and by allowing it to continue to operate for so long, RBI was taking a chance with the depositors' money. In the case of the PMC cooperative bank where RBI also needed to put restrictions—over a year ago—on how much money could be withdrawn, it was argued that the central bank couldn't do much more as it didn't have the powers to supersede the bank's board; but the same does not apply to commercial banks where RBI's powers are quite explicit. While imposing a moratorium on banks—as was done for both PMC and LVB—helps ensure there is no run, not being able to come up with a strong succession plan only hurts depositor interests; the fact that a scheme of amalgamation was announced for LVB within a short while of the moratorium makes it clear RBI has done a good job.
